

Scoundrel In My Dreams

Book 3 of the  by Celeste Bradley

“Bradley has done it again: created a memorable Runaway Brides story that fills your heart with joy and laughter, mixed with tears...Let your spirit fly and savor this wonderful read!”
– Romantic Times Book Reviews (4 ½ stars and Top Pick)

Publication Date: October 2010

0-312-94310-5/ $7.99/ 352 pages

TO REQUEST ADDITIONAL REVIEW COPIES AND/OR AN INTERVIEW WITH THE AUTHOR, PLEASE CONTACT:

Mallika Dattatreya, Publicity

T: 646-307-5547

F: 212-674-3387

Mallika.Dattatreya@stmartins.com

PLEASE SEND TWO TEARSHEETS OF ANY REVIEW OR MENTION.

Step into New York Time's bestselling author Celeste Bradley's world of historical romance in SCOUNDREL IN MY DREAMS, a tale of tumultuous romance that proves some mistakes are worth repeating over and over again.

SCOUNDREL IN MY DREAMS is the final installment of a sexy new trilogy featuring three lords, each of whom could be the father of a three-year old orphan named Melody, who has just been dumped on the doorstep of the Brown's Establishment for Distinguished Gentlemen. Now the hunt is on for her mother and each lord has one lady in his past who just might be the one.

The child is his: Jack, or rather Lord John Redgrave knows it the instant he glimpses the blue-eyed girl who was abandoned on the steps of his gentleman's club. Her mother came to his room one dark night more than three years ago—and spurned his proposal the very next day. But when Jack visits Amaryllis Clarke to demand an explanation, he receives the shock of his life. For it wasn't proud, worldly Amaryllis with whom he spent that soul-stirring night. It was her infatuated younger sister, Laurel.

Laurel was only seventeen when she gave her innocent to Jack and paid a steep price. She might be overjoyed about her reunion with little Melody, but Lauren won't surrender to her desires again. Jack, meanwhile, has no wish to give up the daughter he never knew he had. Nor will he part with the sensual woman who makes him feel alive with longing. He intends to use any means possible to convince Laurel to stay. After all, all's fair in matters of seduction—especially to a scoundrel in love...

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Prior to giving writing a try, New York Times bestselling author Celeste Bradley was a professional artist. She is a two-time Rita Nominee and winner of the prestigious Historical Storyteller of the Year from Romantic Times Book Reviews. Mother of two teen divas, Southern-born Celeste lives in the Southwest. You can meet Celeste at CelesteBradley.com.